

Vegetarian Café Fragment

Waiters were on the prowl,
Tattooed jungle cats,
And the walls were lit
By wall-lamps like embers on branches.

I was lost,
And I was there.
 (Where you are is what you know.)
My hands trembled
Consistently against and through
My decaf and soy.

Nothing happened
 To tell a story about.